CLAIMS ALL OF WORLD IS SUFFERING

L. A. Banker Discusses International Problems Before Glendale Audience

WOULD CANCEL DEBT

Says War-Ridden Countries Unable to Pay Obligations to U. S.

The Men's club of the Tropico Presbyterian church, which is doing some worth-while things, had a most interesting session Friday night when it was addressed by Edward Elliott, vice president and personnel man of the Security Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles. Mr. Elliott was formerly a professor in Princeton university and is an authority on international law.

In the course of his talk he endeavored to show that all the world is suffering from the same economic conditions, the outgrowth of the war, inflation of prices for labor and material, the heavy indebtedness, destruction of property and all the related agencies including the loss of man power which have brought the world to its present state.

He expressed the opinion that European countries cannot pay their bills and that the United States ought to cancel their indebtedness to us, ismply because they cannot pay.

He discussed supply and demand, making a survey of the whole economic field which was most interesting whether one agreed with his conclusions or not.

Owing to the prevailing sickness the attendance was not as large as usual but it was representative.

PAINESVILLE, Ohio, March 4.—Failure of the driver of a jitney bus, loaded to capacity, to see the watchman's red danger signal was believed by authorities today to have caused the grade crossing accident here in which 14 persons were killed, three injured probably fatally and two others less seriously hurt.

Belief in Untruths Cannot Result in Any Real Happiness

Why not let people believe untruths if the belief makes them happy? Why not? asks James W. Foley tonight in "The Listening Post" and he answers the question by stating that an untruth can make nobody happy. It may result in a temporary delusion that seems to spell happiness but in the end it results in disaster.

In the comment on the day's news reference is made to the joy of living in this part of the state and one of the reasons given is that the Mission Play adds its mite to the other blessings of Southern California.

You will find five very splendid editorials tonight on subjects before the people today, all of them expressing an honest opinion and worth reading.

Dr. Frank Crane speaks of Henry Ford, how he has fitted into the spirit of the times, built up an enormous industrial plant, kept himself free from the domination of the financial barons, escaped the assaults of envy, owes his position to no privilege and earning his money honestly.

Della Stewart and John Pilgrim contribute their regular features and there is other matter of interest to all.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS AT BANQUET

All of This District Represented at Meeting Here Last Night

ORATORY CONTEST

First Honors Awarded to Azusa Boy on Theme of "Service"

The District Epworth league banquet at the First Methodist church Friday night, over which the district president, Joe Jones, presided, was a big and inspiring affair.

Covers were laid for about 400 young people from all parts of the district and their songs and yells made it a very peppy function. The address of welcome was made by Dr. Clyde Monroe Crist, and members of the district cabinet were introduced by President Jones, and told briefly of the work of their departments.

At the conclusion of the dinner, served by lades of the church under the leadership of Mrs. Starkey, an adjournment was taken to the auditorium, where a program was given, which included a pageant entitled "A Happy Chinese Home," and a humorous sketch entitled "Food" by members of the Pasadena league, and a pageant, "The Spirit of America," by the Pomona league.

The main event of the evening, however, was the district oratorical contest in which those who had won in local tryouts competed against each other. In this contest first honors were awarded to Reuben Hertenstein of Azusa, whose theme was "Service." Glendale's representative, Miss Dorothy Peart, who spoke on "The Social and Recreational Side of the Church," was given second prize. In her talk she reviewed the development of music in the service of the church and the important place it now fills.

Other contestants were E. H. Cafison of San Bernardino, who also spoke on "Service"; Ray Robinson of Claremont, whose theme was "Character"; Elwood Harmon of Monterey Park, on "Unfulfilled Promise," and Miss Matilda Bogue of Pasadena on "The Game of Life."

The league benediction was pronounced by Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, district superintendent.

PETTY THIEF GETS 30-DAY SENTENCE

Fingers that could not keep away from other people's property are responsible for a 30-day sentence in the county jail, that Judge F. H. Lowe imposed on James Pivovroff of Los Angeles, Thursday morning.

Pivavroff was arrested Wednesday by the police and was questioned regarding the theft of a purse and some money from the home of Mrs. S. R. Wood, 434 East Harvard, where he had called as a vegetable peddler. The boy confessed to the theft and told where he had hidden the money in his wagon. The money and the purse were recovered and returned to the owner.

Pivavroff, who came to this country seven years ago from Russia, told the police that he has been arrested for petty thefts four times and that his brother, who is 16 years old, had been arrested about the same number of times.

THINK VENDETTI NEAR J. D. HOME

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., March 4.—A gang of Italian assassins is believed today to have established headquarters near the John D. Rockefeller estate at Pocantico hills and to be conducting "executions" in the vicinity of the oil king's home. This belief is based on the murder of a young woman thought to be Mary Venza, whose body was found—head severed and with 25 stab wounds—near the Rockefeller grounds, and the killing of Paul O. Letti, who was stabbed on Mt. Calvary road near White Plains.

Both murders bore indications of being the work of an Italian vendetti like the notorious "good killers." There were marks on the faces of the victims thought to be ritualistic scars put there by the knives of the assassins to show other members of the secret order who did the killing—the assasins' signatures.

REDUCED RATES FOR HOMESEEKERS

CHICAGO, March 4.—Four railroads today announced a reduction on railroad fares to western points for home seekers. Twice each month rates of one fare plus $2 for a round trip will be made to home seekers.

RICHEST QUINTET PAYS HUGE INCOME TAX

A quintet of American multi-millionaires have paid taxes to the internal revenue bureau at Washington on incomes of more than $5,000,000 each, declare official reports from that source. Two of the greatest earners are announced as residents of Michigan. Three are New Yorkers. While data on the two huge incomes from Michigan are less exact, the internal revenue bureau has announced that the three New Yorkers paid to the government a total of $18,193,979 in taxes and surtaxes. Authorities in financial circles, however, declare that the quintet shown in the accompanying picture are the five greatest earners in America. They are: John D. Rockefeller, Standard Oil magnate; George F. Baker, New York banker; Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel corporation; Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, and Edsel Ford, his son, active head of the Ford Motor company.

SACRAMENTO, March 4.—No special session of the legislature to consider reapportionment of legislative districts will be called by Governor William D. Stephens, the governor announced in a statement given out here this morning.

The failure of congress to reapportion congressional districts and the "impossibility of reapportionment so clearly demonstrated from all members of the legislature" were given as the reasons for not calling the session, the governor declared.

KANSAS P. W. G.s CONTINUE FIGHT

TOPEKA, Kan., March 4.—Kansas working girls, backed by labor unions, club women, welfare workers and William White, today stood in rebellion against employers who claimed they could dress on $87.50 a year.

Following an announcement from the Kansas industrial court that women's wage hearings will be terminated next week in Wichita, Atchison, Leavenworth and Emporia, working girl leaders here declared that employers would be met with organized opposition in testimony before the court.

An employers' testimate tha girls may eat on 60 cents a day if they are "careful" will be refuted by testimony of women who underwent a "hunger test" to prove it couldn't be done.

PLANNING SMOKER FOR ALL SERVICE MEN HERE

Glendale Legion Has Plans Made for Busy Month

Plans for a smoker for all ex-service men, to be held some time in the early part of April, were discussed at the meeting of Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, last night.

A motion was passed that the Glendale post of the Legion attend the 7:30 a. m. services on Easter Sunday at the Pacific Avenue M. E. church, of which Comrade Preston is the pastor. The post will attend in a body.

On March 15, 16 and 17, the motion picture "I Accuse," taken in France, will be shown at the Glendale theatre. Mr. Howe, proprietor of the theatre, announced that he would give a portion of the receipts of the three nights to the Glendale post of the American Legion. This picture was taken in France by French players and is one of the strongest pictures dealing with the world war that has ever been presented since the cessation of hostilities.

The social committee of the Legion announced that the post will entertain with a dance on next Saturday night.

Two new members, Fred A. Zerman, traveling salesman, and W. E. Clarke, plumber, were initiated into the post.

"Dollar Day" on Friday, Saturday, March 10, 11

"DOLLAR-DAY" has become one of the big merchandising events throughout the country and very nearly all of the progressive mercantile men have adopted it as a monthly event. It has resulted in great benefit to both merchants and patrons for the reason that it has been used as a "get-acquainted" proposition that has not only proved a BIG BARGAIN DAY for the customer, but has worked well for the merchant, who believes in up-to-date ideas of merchandising, and serving his city, town or community in the most acceptable manner.

The Glendale Daily Press at the request of a number of business men has decided to inaugurate "DOLLAR-DAY" on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11, and will have its first "Dollar-Day" run of advertising on Thursday, March 9. It is surprising how much can be bought for One Dollar in Glendale, and Glendale merchants are ever alert and propose to give their patrons real Dollar Day bargains. Here in Glendale the necessities of life can be bought for as little money as anywhere, and as one groceryman expressed it, "cheaper and better grades of goods than anywhere under the sun." But all the merchants have not advertised this fact. "DOLLAR-DAY" will give them ample opportunity to do this. Of course Dollar Day will be only an introduction to the various high class stores of which Glendale boasts in the matter of variety of goods, quality and price, but the purchasing power of a dollar bill will go farther on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11, than it has for some time, for Glendale merchants will demonstrate that they can give a little more for a dollar bill than you can get elsewhere.

Keep your eye on the Glendale Daily Press Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10, and you will find an array of bargains that will prove Glendale merchants are alive and can serve you just a little better than you ever dreamed. Dollar Day is recognized throughout the country as an event of great importance and has resulted in great good to both the buyer and seller in all lines of goods.

TREAT FOR LOVERS OF MUSIC HERE

Brahm van den Berg Thrills Glendalians With Artistic Playing

IS NOTED COMPOSER

Greeted with Persistent Applause to Which He Responds

A fine audience and a most enthusiastic one enjoyed the program given at the high school Friday evening by Glendale's distinguished townsman, Brahm van den Berg, concert pianist and composer.

It is difficult to determine which number pleased most when all were the occasion for applause so persistent and prolonged that the artist generously responded with two encores.

His own waltz composition "To Jaques" from the "Family Album" was especailly delightful in its melody and rhythm in these days of "syncopated jazz," and all its manifold beauty was brought out.

Moskowsky's stormy "Concert Etude" was a preparation in a way for the brilliant Liszt number with which the recital ended, "Rhapsodie No. 6," a most splendid performance which left both audience and player breathless.

In strong contrast were the two other Liszt compositions, the lovely "Love's Dream" and the melodious "La Campanella."

The audience tried hard to express its pleasure in every number but especially in the gay "Polka de W. R." by Rachmaninoff, a charming rhythm which set the heels and toes of more than one old-time dancer a-quiver with desire to respond to its invitation.

Chopin's "Fantasie" with which the program began was wonderful and the "Legend" by Raff was no less of a delight.

The artist's technique, which is beyond description and must be seen and heard to be in any degree comprehended, was of absorbing interest to piano students and musicians present.

The concert was given by the Glendale Music club and the artist was introduced by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president, who made several announcements in connection with the music memory contest which the club is conducting through its representatives, Mrs. Dora Gibson and Miss Brennan. She dwelt particularly on the good work that is being done in the schools and the co-operation of the music houses of the city, particularly the Glendale Music company ney Music Shop, who have generney Music Shop, who have generously given a full set of forty records each, which will become the property of the Glendale schools after the contest ends. The donors of prizes for the contest were mentioned and the appointment of Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson by the Chamber of Commerce to secure additional prizes sufficient to make the contest of great interest to young people partciipating.

She announced that March 23 will be federation night in the club's calendar and that the program on that occasion will be furnished by the local musical organizations that are members of the State Federation of Music Clubs.

WILL CONTINUE HAYS' POLICIES

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Policies of Will H. Hays will be continued in the postoffice department, Dr. Hubert Work declared, in taking his oath as the new postmaster general today.

Foremost among these policies is the "humanizing" of the postal service, which he characterized as merely "kindness" in dealing with the members of the postal system. He indicated that for the present marines would continue to guard the mails, although the department is now organizing its own system of guards.

VOTERS MUST REGISTER

B. F. McDougall, registrar of voters at the corner of Brand and Broadway, urges the people of Glendale to register as the time when registrations can be made will soon expire. He claims that it is the duty of every citizen to register so that he can vote on important things in this city.

CHARGE MANSLAUGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Miss Elizabeth Ross was under arrest here today charged with manslaughter as a result of the death of Joseph B. Keeley, retired merchant, late yesterday after having been struck by an automobile said to have been driven by Miss Ross.

SAYS WAGE COST UNJUST

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A large portion of the nation's industries have concluded a prosperous year and pleas for wage cuts are unjust, an official review of big corporation earnings compiled by the American Federation of Labor stated today.

Jeff's Brand of Religion Finds Little Support

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—The James J. Jeffries brand of religion may work splendidly on the James J. Jeffries ranch in Burbank, but in Los Angeles ministerial circles today it was forlorn and friendless.

Tobacco and liquors and profanity, in moderation, are all right, according to the views the ex-champion will expound if he takes the "glory trail" as now planned in company with his friend, A. F. Futterer, Bible authority.

Tobacco and liquors and profanity and James J. Jeffries himself, in moderation or otherwise are all wrong, the Los Angeles pulpit vociferously asserted in local newspapers today.

"Jeffries' beliefs will not meet with a ready reception," said Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb of the Westlake Presbyterian church.

"If his God is as liberal as reported, Jeffries has had a nightmare," commented Rev. R. P. Shuler of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church.

"Jeffries won't be welcomed on any such principles as he has announced," Rev. J. W. Brougher of Temple Baptist church said.

But all that doesn't get under Jeffries' skin.

ECONOMIST SAYS FRANCE CANNOT GO ALONE

French Educator Declares Real State of Peace Must Come

PARIS, March 4.—The success of a big international consortium for the economic reconstruction of Europe does not seem at all impossible to Professor Charles Gide, one of the most prominent French economists, who for years has been teaching political economy at the College of France.

"Such consortium," declared Professor Gide, "could do useful work. Before anything else, it is necessary to restore a real state of peace in clearing off the atmosphere of suspition and hate which weighs upon Europe. Nothing will do more to this end than loyal collaboration between the allied or exenemy nations, based on the solidarity of their interests.

"Especially for France this collaboration is indispensable. The latest events have shown the danger of a policy of isolation. At Washington, in the disarmament question; at Cannes, in the question of the German moratorium, France has found herself alone as regards other nations. If she let herself go on this perilous way, she will soon have lost the benefit of a policy which before and during the war won her a unique position. The advantages which she obtained from the peace will also be endangered, since it is foolish to believe that France's military supremacy and her alliance with small nations like Belgium and Poland could be of any use against the growing hostility of other powers.

"An international bank issuing standard money would help material exchanges and could have a regulating influence over the rates of exchange of national currencies.

"In the meantime, the law forbidding the export of capital from France should be cancelled, because it prevents foreign capital from coming in for fear that it will find itself trapped when it wants to get out. This, a better collection of existing taxes, and some unavoidable new taxes, are the most pressing steps to be taken."

POST MORTEM ON CHURCH BLOCKED

Intimated Drugged to Prevent Squealing on His Accomplices

CHICAGO, March 4.—Efforts by Coroner Peter Hoffman to conduct post mortem examination on the body of Harvey Church to determine whether he had been drugged before being hanged for the murder of two automobile salesmen, were blocked today by Church's parents.

Hoffman declared he believed Church had been kept in a drugged condition for more than a month before he was hanged so that he would not squeal on accomplices. Church was hanged shortly before 4 p. m. Friday. He was unconscious up to the time the trap was sprung.

Jail physicians scoffed at Hoffman's claim. They said Church's condition was brought about by his long fast from food. They pointed out Hoffman was a candidate for the position as sheriff and declared he made the charges for political purposes.

Examinatfon of Church's body showed he had been burned with ends of cigars and deep knife wounds inflicted in his flesh by "specialists" who examined him while he was in a comatose condition.

MOTOR BUS OPERATION PAYING ONE

Other Cities Report Municipal Lines Are Self Sustaining

INQUIRIES SENT OUT

Many Letters Are Received in Response to These Queries

Replies to letters written by C. D. Gulick, transportation manager for the city of Glendale, to city officials and chamber of commerce secretaries in cities throughout the United States regarding the operation of bus lines are coming in to the city hall by the hundreds.

When the plan was first suggested that the city of Glendale operate a municipally owned bus line, Mr. Gulick was retained as traffic manager and advisor. One of the first things done by him was to write to the officials of the cities and the chambers of commerce in cities where bus lines were in operation. These letters inquired as to the service rendered, the saving on transportation rates and the effect such line had on the street railway companies.

In most part the replies to the inquiries of Mr. Gulick have been to the effect that motorbus transportation is successful in practically every town that has installed it. The letters state that the bus lines have reduced transportation rates, have proven money making propositions and in some cases have proven so successful that the street car lines operating in competition have ceased business.

Mr. Gulick stated this morning that while the Los Angeles board of public utilities announced after the hearing on the application of Glendale to operate a bus line with a terminal in Los Angeles that they would take the matter under advisement, there seems to be every reason for the belief that the permit will be granted within a short time.

PLAN DIFFERENT KIND OF PROGRAM

A program that will be different from any that has ever been given at the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Glendale Credit association has been arranged for the meeting to be held on Monday. Max J. Hammel of the advertising and merchandising firm of Hammel and Sutphen of Los Angeles, will address the members during the lunch hour.

Mr. Hammel has chosen as his subject "Association, Co-operation and Community Advertising." The address by Mr. Hammel will be in addition to the regular business meeting of the Credit associaiton.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 4.—The American Legion today denied claims of opponents of the bonus bill now pending in congress that the Legion had lost members because of its stand on the measure.

From a paid up membership of 433,000 in 1919, the Legion has jumped to 896,000 in 1921, it was stated at national headquarters here. More than half of these have paid their annual dues for 1922 and dues are being received at the rate of 5,000 daily.

The Barton Bedtime Stories

WHERE THE DOVE GOT THE OLIVE BRANCH

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

There was no sound, out by Chips Beaver's Pond, but excited breathing of the Woodsfolk.

"Well, continued Dr. Muskrat, "if the folks on that oak tree raft had waited for the Ark to come along they'd be waiting still. It was 'most a month before she was even heard from. Then the dove came flying along.

"'Awk, she's somewhere near, is Mister Noah's old craft,' sneered the raven, 'or that triflin' flap-wing wouldn't be going so strong. I'll be airing my feathers, my own self, just to see how much longer shes likely to be. So up he circled.

"As he climbed aloft the dove saw him. She circled down, keeping a cautious eye out for fear it was Fluke-slasher the Whale. She didnt want him to give her another spraying. When she was sure it was a tree, she lit fast enough, cooed a polite greeting to the folks who were living on it, and began her everlasting preening. (Shes still a self-conscious, tidy thing.) Of course she talked a lot, but, being too mannerly to gossip, she didn't really say anything. She just said how nice the weather was, and fluttered over the children. 'My dear,' she mourned to the squirrel, 'I would not wait for a bug or a seed if I could just find a sprig of green. I'd start right in to nesting.'

"'But what would you feed your squabs on?' protested the squirrel in a shocked voice. She had visions of the poor little things starving before their mother's eyes.

"'Milk, ma'am. Pigeon milk.' And that's a fact. All the dove's family can make milk to feed their young out of anything they can tuck in their own crops. That's why they're always the first birds to nest in the spring—because they're the only ones who can do it. Even the hawks don't dare try unless there's a specially big mouse crop.

"'Bless you,' said the squirrel's beaver husband. 'There's plenty of green floating about. Seems like every little tip-endy twig the storm broke off is growing leaves and roots, since the sun came out—or maybe it's because they feel the earth getting close beneath them. Even I can touch bottom now—that's how shallow the flood is getting.'

"'Is it so?' fluted the dove, almost joyfully. 'Give me one and I'll take it home. Even if I can't come to him with mud on my feet that'll be good news to Mister Noah.' You see, she had no intention of forgetting that troubled old man, like the raven did. She kept her word. And the beaver liked her for it."

PORTRAYAL OF HISTORY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 4.—Portrayal of the history of Missouri in a frieze across the front of the capital building recently was decided upon by the Capital Decoration commission. The commission appropriated $50,000 for the work. It will require about three years to complete the frieze. The governor's reception room is to have portraits of Mark Twain, Eugene Field, James S. Rollins, founder of the University of Missouri, and Susan Blow, who introduced the kindergarten into the American system.

TUJUNGA BUS TO OPEN A NEW LINE

Tujunga - San Fernando Soon to Be Traveled by Richardson Co.

TUJUNGA, March 4.—Application by the Richardson Transportation company for a permit to operate a bus line between Tujunga and San Fernando has been acted favorably upon by the railroad commission and operation of the line is expected to start within thirty days. This new line will be of great benefit to residents of Tujunga as it will afford the only direct means of transportation to the San Fernando valley. It also gives Los Angeles visitors an opportunity to make a continuous trip along one of the most beautiful routes in Southern California.

Pupils from the Tujunga school will have the opportunity to see the Mission Play on Thursday of nxet week. Arrangements have been made whereby special rates are to be secured and about twenty-five or thirty pupils are planning to go. Automobiles have been secured for transportation and the teachers and some of the parents will accompany the children. Every year the Mission Play management affords this opportunity to the schools and as many as possible should take advantage of it.

Dr. Bain of Los Angeles and Sunset streets has opened an emergency hospital in his home. There will be a nurse on duty at all times ready to take care of emergency cases. A hospital of this sort has long been needed in Tujunga and it is felt that Dr. Bain has performed a splendid civic duty.

A small fire which rapidly assumed the proportions of a serious conflagration occurred in the office of the Home Extension company on Friday morning. The stove pipe became so hot that it ignited the woodwork around it and started a good-sized blaze. Miss M. H. Osgood, secretary of the company, who was in the office at the time, secured help and an extinguisher from the fire trailer soon put an end to the blaze.

D. & L. theatre each and every Saturday. Every boy and girl in Glendale will like the picture. So kids, here is "your show."

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES.

"Now, Edward," said the Sunday school teacher, "can't you tell me what the prodigal son's father did when he returned?"

"He jumped on his neck and kissed him," replied Edward.

BURBANK BUILDING STILL CLIMBING

The remarkable building activity of this city shows a steady increase, month over month. Building permits issued during February by Building Inspector H. C. Bond total $215,510, as compared with $67,515 for January and $45,550 for February of last year. Last January and February were by far the smallest months of the year in amount of building permits issued with a total of $71,810. If the proportion of increase for this year holds true according to the months, the end of this year will finish so far ahead of last, that it will fade into the forgotten past, although at the time it was certainly a remarkable record. There were 49 permits issued for residences, business blocks, factories and a fine high school building.

BIG TIME ACTS AT T. D. & L. FOR TODAY

The best acts of vaudeville in Glendale ever seen are at the T. D. and L. theatre today. Tommy La Rose is well known in musical comedy as one of the cleverest and most original producers in the business and the musical revue which he is presenting is one that is filled with bright and catchy songs and dances that should appeal to everyone who sees it.

Another act that is well received is that of Clement's troupe of Royal Hawaiians. Wherever vaudeville has been shown, this troupe is known for "A Night in Paradise Isle" and has played the best of the standard circuits throughout the country.

The Appy Trio have a most distinctive offering which consists of three women, one of them possessed of a remarkable voice and the other two performers on the violin and cello.

The feature photoplay shown in addition to the five acts of vaudeville is "Get Rick Quick Wallingford" in which an all tsar cast is featured. This picture is one of the famous stories of George Randolph Chester.

This would be a fine old world if men could only believe all they say.

BUSY SESSION OF BURBANK BOARD

Many Matters of Importance Presented for Consideration

The city board of trustees transacted a various lot of business at the last meeting. One of the first matters and one of importance was the considering of the idea which was brought to the attention of the board by Mr. Neiman. He wants the water mains in the industrial section of the city enlarged and says that if this is done it will result in much greater fire protection and also reduce very materially the rate of fire insurance. The matter was referred to the utilities committee.

Application by Mr. Stickney was made for the position of city marshal. It was filed and referred to the police committee.

Mr. Nash and nineteen others presented a petition to the board asking that it be forbidden to dump rubbish and garbage on Central ayenue near the railroad. Mr. Johnson made complaint along the same line in regard to conditions on Santa Anita avenue.

Mr. Zwalina asked the board regarding its attitude in the matter of accepting the fourteen feet offered by Mr. Hartley to the city, making the street at the upper end 46 feet wide and he particularly desired to know if the city would approve the improvement with a jog, and the board informed him that the city would require the full width.

Mr. Wetterauer wants a grade established in the alley between Tenth and Eleventh streets and Santa Anita and Verdugo avenues in order that the owners may improve it. The matter will be handled by the street committee.

Another matter which was given over to the street committee was the damage which Mr. Andrews said has been done his property as the result of storm waters being so diverted that his land was washed.

Mr. Fulton appeared before the board to ask its attitude in the matter of the improvement of that portion of Providencia avenue from Eleventh street to the mountains. The street committee and the city engineer will look after this question.

PLANNING SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

$190,000 Needed to Make Burbank Schools Fill Present Needs

At the last meeting of the school board of Burbank the first steps were taken to provide more room for the continually increasing school population. The preliminary papers were prepared for the holding of an election to vote bonds for $190,000. Of this sum it is planed to use $80,000 for the completion of the units of the high school which are now in progress of construction. When the bonds were voted for the $161,000 for the high school, it was all that the district could vote under the law, and it was not sufficient to fully complete the building as the requirements demand. With this additional sum there will be built a shop for instruction in the trades; two gymnasiums and the completion of the auditorium and full equipment of the building.

It is the plan at present, according to J. D. Radcliff, president of the board, to use the $100,000 for the erection of three grade schools in three different sections of the district which would be greatly to the convenience of the children.

The papers prepared by the board at its meeting are now in the hands of the county council which will shape them up with regard to all the technicalities of law and when they are returned to the board, it will then fill in the date for the election. Mr. Radcliff said he hoped this election could be held on March 31 which is the date of the election of a member of the school board.

BUT ONE TO ELECT ON SCHOOL BOARD

Member Selected to Fill Vacancy Holds Until Next Election

It has been the general understanding ever since there has been discussion of the election of members for the school board, that two members were to be elected on March 31, and this information has been given out fro mauthorative sources, but J. D. Radcliff, president of the board states that after looking over the new school laws, he finds that a member of the board selected to fill a vacancy may continue in that position until the natural expiration of that term instead of giving it up at the time of the first election following his taking the place, and because of this new ruling, T. B. McClintock who is filling the unexpired term of R. O. Church, resigned, will hold his place for another year. This leaves but one place to fill, that occupied by Mr. Radcliff, the president.

CANDIDATES FOR BURBANK BOARD

Petitions are now being filed with City Clerk Webster by candidates for election to the city board of trustees. The Burbank Civic Betterment association has recommended the following four who have filed their petitions: J. C. Crawford, I. S. Watson, E. J. Jackson and John Neilson. Joseph W. Fawkes has also filed his petition as a candidate.

FRENCH SELL U. S. SUPPLIES.

PARIS, March 4.—Andre Paisant, under-secretary of state, announced that the French government has to date realized 3,200,000,000 francs from the sale of the vast supplies left behind by the American army and purchased by the French government. The remainder of the stocks are expected to bring 200,000,000 francs, making a total of 4,000,000,000 francs. The government is in the curious position of not knowing until 1929 whether it has made a profit or loss on the huge transaction. It all depends upon the rate of exchange on the dollar on that date. The government bought the stocks from the United States for $400,000,000 and promised to pay within ten years—in dollars. At the time of purchase the frans was seven to the dollar—or 2,800,000,000 francs. The interest is five per cent semi-annually, but no interest has yet been paid. If the franc goes down to seven to the dollar by 1929 the government will stand to make about 1,200,000,000 francs on the deal.

BERLIN, March 4.—Germany may take her first step along the road towards prohibition at the present session of the reichstag. The government, pointing out the evils of intoxication, is preparing a bill drastically limiting the number of drinking places.

INDIANS VISITING BURBANK BASTILE

Too Much "Fire Water" Gets Them Ten Days in City Jail

Too much "fire water" got a couple of Indians into trouble Sunday and into Judge Avery's court Monday. They did not have much to say when brought before the judge and he fined them ten dollars and ten days. They gave their names as George Jackson and H. Lewis.

Two "bos" were picked up Monday morning by Officer Gates and taken before the judge who kindly explained that they would have to work on the streets of the city for ten days but that they would be given three good meals and a place to sleep even if it were in a jail. When he had finished his little talk, one of the men who said his name was John Dolan, and was rather neatly dressed, stated that he had work waiting him in Santa Barbara and was on his way there and that if he might be allowed to go on it would be a great help to himself and family. The judge's heart was softened and the man was ordered on his way.

Truths in Epigram

There is no gathering the rose without being pricked by the thorns. — Pilpay.

There is endless merit in a man's knowing when to have done.—Carlyle (1795-1881).

The only reward of virtue is virtue; the only way to have a friend is to be one.—Emerson (1803-1882).

MOVIES AND BASEBALL

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis has been a picturesque figure on the federal bench and his removal from it to become arbiter of baseball disputes and differences marks an interesting stage in the development of sport as a thing grown so national and solid in its scope that it draws from the ranks of jurisprudence to help itself live in peace and with order.

Judge Landis is one of the few men who was named, not after a distinguished person, but after a rather distinguished place, if a place can be distinguished. He was named, as is obvious, after Kenesaw mountain, and his cognomen proves that you can make a name out of anything if you want to. The judge's career as a jurist has been tinged with the spectacular, and perhaps he became best known through a fine of twenty-nine million dollars levied on Standard Oil. We do not know that the fine was ever paid, but it made good press stuff, and the judge has never been forgotten in all the flight of years since then. Twenty-nine million dollars was a tidy sum in those days. Now it is a mere bagatelle, as the books say. For we have become accustomed to talk in billions.

But to get to the serious side of the case, both of Judge Landis and Will Hays, one gone to baseball and the other to the movies. We might at first blush be disposed to speak lightly of men who would leave the bench and the cabinet for baseball and the movies. But both baseball and the movies have become pretty solid parts of American life. They supply interest and entertainment, not only for the tired business man, but for youth and beauty and middle age and weariness. It is important then that they be conducted rightly, kept free from smut and scandal and untoward happenings, and managed with prudence and good sense and wisdom.

So it is entirely possible that a man might do as much good as a baseball arbiter as he would as a jurist; that he might serve people and a great industry as well as captain-in-chief of the movies as in the cabinet. If we get good and distinguished men in positions of directorship and responsibility, we should certainly get improvement in the national sport and the films. And events of recent happening indicate that we need a considerable improvement in both.

THE BONES OF HANNIBAL

A press dispatch states that a scientific expedition is to search the ruins of ancient Carthage. Among the things that may be discovered among the ruins are the bones of Hannibal, whom every school boy remembers, not personally, but through the romantic crossings of the Alps, and the drubbing finally received at the arms of the Romans.

Hannibal was a soldier of some parts in his day and we presume his bones would have a certain sentimental value, if there are enough of them left to identify. Still, bones are bones, and we might not learn anything new about bones if those of Hannibal were brought to light. And, along the same line, where are the bones of Julius Caesar? Those would be interesting bones to discover and why not a search at the same time for those of that great warrior, statesman and writer of text books for the school boys of this latter day?

We are not especially hard pressed for bones. The world is underlaid with those of the billions who have come and gone. But the bones of Caesar and Hannibal would have more than usual interest because of the publicity both men have had through the centuries.

LLOYD GEORGE

David Lloyd George is one of the highly interesting political figures of the world. He has been the fighting center of more political crises and has surmounted more difficulties perhaps than any statesman of this or any age.

He has been called a politician and his candor and honesty of purpose have been attacked, but politicians in no age have been distinguished either for candor or for entire and unselfish honesty of purpose. It is the business of a politician to help his party survive and to survive with it. With Lloyd George, his party has meant his country largely, in the period of the late war. For the very survival of the country was at stake.

And Lloyd George has survived and his country has survived as well. Other men might have done his work better, but the fact remains that Lloyd George has done the work there was to do, how well depends upon whether the commentator is friend or enemy. He is sturdy, resourceful, capable and hard to get into a corner he can't get out of. If he should resign, as is reported, his successor would have no inconsiderable job. And Lloyd George, with all the strength and fighting quality he has, might relish a real rest, if his nature would permit him to take it.

OPPORTUNITY

The country seems to hold opportunity still. The selection of Earl Dezell to succeed the late Harold Powell as head of the citrus growers' exchange is a case in point.

According to reports he has risen from office boy to the top of the heap. That happens in books many times. It happens in real life just as often. Because who would know more of the affairs of the institution than one who has passed through its successive stages from office boy upward? And who is better fitted to head an institution than one who knows its affairs best, if he has honesty, courage, and executive capacity?

The world is full of opportunity. Every man who stands at the top of something had to begin somewhere. He did not spring full armed into executive control. Business and industry have countless conspicuous instances of present day opportunity. But the individual needs so to fit himself as to be able to grasp the opportunity when it offers.

The matter of personal achievement and success is not due to any political or social condition. It is with the individual. Life is here and work and chance. There is no royal road and there is no caste. The plow boy may become president. And the child of wealth, position and culture may achieve nothing at all but disaster. Nothing is sure but that patience, perseverance, industry, sincerity, sobriety, honesty and the old-fashioned virtues will count at last.

HOLD-UP MEN

One time there was an epidemic of hold-ups and murders and violent crimes in an eastern city. The hold-up men attacked men and women on the streets and robbed them and got away with the goods. And after a lot of patience and toleration and good nature the authorities sent out a few plain clothes with paper bags in their hands. Inside of the paper bags were revolvers fairly well gripped. One night a hold-up man commanded the bearer of a paper bag to throw up his hands—and he did. And as his hand was going up he shot through the paper bag and got the hold-up man fairly well toward the middle of him and the 'subsequent proceedings" did not interest him much more.

This hint might be useful in the case of hold-up men along secluded highways who gather in shekels and shoot young people in the legs. Properly baited, a trap might spring and land one or more of the pests. And if it was necessary to shoot into the middle of one or more of them, no great harm would be done, provided always it was the right man.

Hold-up men are potential murderers. They need about as much sympathy and waste of time.

Traveling through the air is not as safe as traveling on land, has not been and will not be, notwithstanding all the claims of the enthusiasts. It is an interesting step in advance, but it has its great element of hazard. The passenger ships to carry tourists and trunks and have dining rooms and sleepers and all that are still a long distance from realization. Most of us will take the transcontinental train and the Pullman.

If Mary is losing $6000 a day, as the reports say, no wonder she is restless and that Doug frets and smokes cigarettes. Six thousand dollars a day is worth saving.

The state rests in the Obenchain case, the defense will soon rest, and it is hoped that after a while the plain people of the country will get their chance to rest.

And along in the middle of the month there will be the smell of the Arbuckle case again.

Wireless telegrams come under the head of disconnected sentences.

The Irish seems still to be having their favorite brand of peace.

An ounce of common sense is worth a pound of book learning.

To be a gentleman all a man has to do is to hide his meanness.

FORD THE GREAT

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is as much justification in calling Henry Ford of the United States Ford the Great as there ever was in calling Alexander of Macedonia Alexander the Great, or Charles of France, Charles the Great, or Charlemagne.

DR. FRANK CRANE

For taking into account the change of times and of the materials which men have to work upon today as compared with those which they had to work upon in the world yesterday, Ford has done quite as much in the way of impressing himself upon his fellow-men as did the warriors of old.

That by which we form this judgment is not mere popularity. Charlie Chaplin is famous, and so is Mary Pickford, Trotzky, or Landru. But they are famous only in the way of being a nine days' wonder. They have succeeded in attracting universal attention, but when they pass they will have nothing behind.

Foch and Persning and Hindenburg are famous, but only as parts of great machines in which they functioned but which they did not create.

Ford is great. Fitting into the spirit of the times, embodying the genius of the people among whom he lives, he has done with pre-eminent success what in the opinion of his contemporaries is worth while doing.

He has built up an enormous industrial plant and given employment to thousands of people at wages that are more than just.

He has taken one of the greatest inventions of his age—the automobile—and brought it within the reach of the multitude, and this not by making it cheap and flimsy, but by keeping it of the very best quality.

He has kept himself free from the domination of the financial barons.

He has strictly adhered to the best standard of justice and ethics of his times.

He has so far escaped the assaults of envy.

The charge that he is ignorant is absurd, for real knowledge is not learning, but rather ability and common sense.

He owes his position to no privilege. He has earned his money.

His foolish attack upon the Jews only proves that he is human and liable to mistakes.

When he passes he will have the most enviable epitaph a man can have, which is that he has left the world better than he found it.

THE LISTENING POST

Someone says:
"Why not let people believe untruths if the belief makes them happy?"
Sure enough.
Why not?
If it makes them happy.

* * *

The difficulty is that untruth can make nobody happy.
It may result in a temporary delusion that seems to spell happiness.
In the end it results in disaster.

* * *

Along the same line of reason we might ask why not let people take morphine?
It makes them happy.
It stimulates the brain cells and exhilarates and quickens.
It sends wonderful dreams bounding through the imagination.

* * *

Oh, yes, it makes for happiness.
So it seems.
It drives away pain and takes away the sting of sorrow and makes millionaires of paupers.
DeQuincey tells about it.
Read him sometime.

* * *

But the state of exaltation subsides.
There is horror and misery and suffering.
A whole nervous system tortured and twitching and crying out for more drug.
No misery in the world is equal to that of the addict deprived of his drug.

* * *

Where is the happiness?
Where is the delusion and dream and stimulation and ecstasy?
The imagined gladness was a delusion and a snare.
The penalty is to be paid.
The penalty of untruth.

* * *

Why not let children forswear school?
Play makes them happy.
Study is irksome and difficult.
The fresh air and birds are the natural companions of childhood.
So we listen to the call of the wild.

* * *

There will be no study.
No discipline.
Books will be cast aside.

We shall let the children live the great untruth of idleness and indolence and complete free will.

* * *

And we have ignorance and illiteracy.
Besotted ignorance in a world where knowledge was intended to rule.
A mind without culture or training.
Incapacity.
Mental stagnation and disease and death.
Where is the happiness?
Again it was a delusion.

* * *

Why seek for truth in the world?
Because truth is the one thing the world can live by with happiness and survive by.
There is no happiness in untruth of any sort.
There is only misery.

* * *

Why know the truth about life?
About work and religion and philosophy and music and art and birth and decay and death?
Why seek knowledge?

* * *

Why not let people believe and stagnate in any kind of erroneous thinking?
Because to permit error and ignorance and bigotry and darkness and the misery-breeding things to go unrebuked is a crime against the human race.

* * *

Why teach hygiene and sanitation to the natives of our dominions?
Why not let them be dirty, unclean, savage and free-willed?
Because to do so is a crime against them and their children to be born for all of time.

* * *

Trickery, fakery, quackery, untruth—all of the things that lead to mental stagnation and disease and misery and death are to be opposed and hated and dethroned and cast out.

* * *

Then we shall live by labor.
By human kindness.
By love and work and play and faith in life and humanity.
We shall be clean and spirited and willing and industrious and strong and capable of preserving liberty and truth and order for ourselves and for our children.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

Ave Atque Vale—By Rosamund Marriott Watson (1863-1911)

Farewell, my Youth! for now we needs must part,
For here the paths divide;
Here hand from hand must sever, heart from heart—
Divergence deep and wide.

You'll wear no withered roses for my sake,
Though I go mourning for you all day long,
Finding no magic more in bower or brake,
No melody in song.

Gray Eld must travel in my company
To seal this severance more fast and sure.
A joyless fellowship, i' faith, 'twill be,
Yet must we fare together, I and he,
Till I shall tread the footpath way no more.

But when a blackbird pipes among the boughs,
On some dim, iridescent day in spring,
Then I may dream you are remembering
Our ancient vows.

Or when some joy foregone, some fate foresworn,
Looks through the dark eyes of the violet,
I may re-cross the set, forbidden bourne,
I may forget
Our long, long parting for a little while,
Dream of the golden splendors of your smile,
Dream you remember yet.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

In the case of Lloyd George it might be well to remember the old saying that few die and none resign.

Michigan seems also to have had a freeze.

The scorching smell you discover is perhaps more witnesses on some grill.

Life in some of our sister cities seems to be all shooting and killing and probing and grilling.

We take it fifteen bishops and clergy ought to tie a hard knot.

We are interested to learn that while the kaiser's mustaches are snow-white they still stand up straight as usual. The ruling passion strong in mustaches.

We note that for the 'nth time California is to be made bone dry again.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

AS LANDIS QUITS

[New York World]

In resigning from the federal bench Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis evidently wanted it to be plainly understood that he had made no concession to public opinion but had considered only his personal convenience. Long ago he declared that he would not "quit under fire," but there never has been a moment that he has not been under fire since he added to his judicial duties the lucrative job of high commissioner of organized baseball.

Judge Landis saw fit deliberately to defy the properties. If he imagined that he could silence criticism by brazening it through he failed. The resolution of the American Bar association condemning him for drawing a baseball as well as a judicial salary still stands of record and has lost none of its sting. In abandoning at this late day the smaller salary he has not cleared himself of reproach as a United States district judge. By his voluntary withdrawal, however, the court for whose traditions he manifested open contempt must gain in respect.

Once warned, congress should make a repetition of the Landis affair impossible. It is unseemly that a federal judge should receive more than one salary or serve outside interests for personal gain. Since Judge Landis was blind to the point, there should be no room for another judge ever to imitate his bad example.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

Some of us are of the steam engine type. We blow off steam so easily. The least little annoyance, and p-s-s-t! we are off! Every one in our pathway has to take the vapor and noise.

We all number among our acquaintances or associates the man or woman who thus "blows up." We soon learn them, and to avoid them if we can. Only sometimes we can't. They are too near us.

Then there are two courses for us. We can give ourselves up to annoyance, and in turn become blowers-off of steam ourselves. That will add to the general confusion, give us the chance of showing off our tempers, and—do no one good. Or we can inoculate ourselves with the serum of endurance. It won't be very easy at first—but who said we wanted the easy things? Not we, did we? We're not as weak as all that. We can so inure ourselves to the "blowing off" that we'll scarcely notice it, just as the dwellers along the trolley line fail to hear the rumble once the ear becomes accustomed to the noise.

Some steam-blowers, not all, can be quieted by good-natured comment. One such in our acquaintance never could resist smiling when met with: "What! Are you scolding yet, or again?" For steam-blowing soon gets to be a habit and, like most habits, becomes more exacting than we meant it to be.

Steam-blowing is not particularly dangerous. It's merely annoying. For the force thus liberated flies off and is dispersed in space, where all chance of harm is ended. It isn't worth the commotion it sometimes causes—this safety valve.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

Southern California has an institution to which it can point with pardonable pride; an institution that is at once educational and entertaining, that reveals something of the early history of the west and carries a strong religious appeal.

I refer to the Mission Play, which for eleven consecutive seasons has been a distinct feature in this part of the country. It has had 1800 performances in its own playhouse and more than one million persons have viewed it. This is a most remarkable record, unequaled, I am informed, by any other production in the world and stands as a sincere tribute to John McGroarty, poet-historian of California.

In all the 1800 performances Jane Rupple, who plays the role of the half-breed Indian girl, has not missed a single performance in the entire eleven years. There have been other Father Juniperos, but Anita has always been Jane since the day of the first dress rehearsal.

The Mission Play is typically California and it reveals so much of the early history of the west, telling as it does of the efforts of the Padres to establish themselves in this wonderland, that it naturally has an appeal to visitors.

In the very shadow of one of the oldest California missions this story of the advent of the white man into California is staged in an atmosphere at once appropriate and charming. Mr. McGroarty, through the Mission Play, has contributed something to the joy of living in this part of the state.

A paragrapher in a spirit of fun asks, "Should college girls smoke? (Ask Dad, he knows!)" And another wag says that many college girls think Virgil is some Egyptian cigarette maker and that the Odyssey is the name of a new cigar.

Perhaps there are some college girls who smoke. We know that there are women who roll their own and appear to enjoy smoking. Perhaps it is none of our business but we cannot help but cherish the knowledge that our mothers did not do this. Maybe that thought is old-fashioned? If it is we plead guilty.

* * *

Speaking of smoking brings to mind the statement that Joe Cannon is to retire from congress. He came into prominence during the day of the good five-cent cigar. He has served almost a life sentence in the lower house and if he has smoked one cigar he has smoked a million. No picture of the veteran would be complete without a stogie between his teeth. If smoking affects one Cannon has given no evidence of it in 85 years.

Dispatches from London published in New York papers state that the British intend to reduce the cost of their army 15,500,000 pounds. This is the first benefit that the British people will received through the Peace Conference held in Washington.

Apropos of nothing in particular we quote this question and answer found in the table manners department of a newspaper:
Q.—Do you object to a person drinking coffee out of a saucer?
A.—No. It always amuses us immensely.

There is a man in Chicago who has not read a newspaper for three years. He is in jail. He boarded a street car, took a front seat and puffed on a big black cigar. The conductor couldn't stop him—neither could a patrolman. He told the judge that it wasn't against the law to smoke a cigar on the cars the last time he rode and that was three years ago. He admitted he had not read a newspaper in this time and he didn't know anything about the prohibition law. He said, however, he got his liquor from a man who made it. He knew everything except what he should have known. The unfortunate thing about this is that there are too many men just like him.

Science, to which we are indebted for much of our knowledge, has made the interesting discovery that there is a physical reason for woman's loquacity. It has been found that in the third fold of the brain is a region called Broca's convolution. From measurements of a very great number of men and women an average has been struck that shows Broca's convolution to be considerably larger in women than in man. Her speech-making factory being bigger, her output of words is necessarily larger.

Furthermore the bigger speech center of woman seems to be more easily excited than man's smaller one. It is set, according to a physician who had made an exhaustive study of matter, on a hair-trigger. The most powerful stimulus to the speech centers is emotion. Every one knows how much more voluably we talk when excited. Women are more emotional than men. With a larger speech organ, set on a hair-trigger, and more easily aroused emotions to stimulate it, women, it is argued, must naturally talk more.

And this is the reason, according to a scientific explanation, why women talk so much. Would you have believed it?

Although leprosy is comparatively rare in continental United States, it is encouraging to learn that a specific cure for the disease has been found especially for young persons and those in the early stages of the disease.

The gloomy outlook for lepers has recently been tinged with hope by the discovery of a mode of treatment involving the use of chaulmoogra oil, which for 200 years has been reputed to be of beneficial effect for leprosy. The oil itself is absorbed slowly and is apt to cause painful abscesses; but the hypodermic injection of its ethyl sters, devised by Dean, have supplied a way by which it may be used without undue sufferings. Since 1912 a total of 183 patients have been parolled from the Kalihi investigating station of the public health service in Hawaii (140 of them since July 9, 1919) as being apparently cured. Of those who have received the chaulmoogra oil derivations only 12 (8 per cent) have returned for further treatment.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Last night I visited my old friends the Congers and did this and that—the sort of thing one usually does when one visits friends nowadays. And during the evening some one got Mrs. Conger on the telephone. The conversation seemed fairly animated, but it ended when Mrs. Conger said:

"Listen. I do not know whether I will give you anything. But if I decide to give I'll send it to you. You needn't call."

Then the story came out. The lady at the other end of the wire had been one of those odious, treacly, cooing, sighing, sweet-and-dearie, persistent, leech-like solicitors for a charity. Don't think I'm knocking charities. I am not. I am expressing my abundant hope that some day the good old human race will muster up courage enough to say to insulting beggars for charity:

"I will give or not at my will and not at yours. You cannot blackmail, frighten, bully or coax me into giving. I will give where I think the money is most needed and where it will be best used, and not where the solicitors employed use the old-fashioned mace and war club when they go scouting."

In a world that needs help—that needs help in every state and every country and almost in every home—there is probably not a more useless charity to be found than the one for which this telephone-teaser was operating. That particular charity has been in operation for forty years. In all that time—I happen to know something of it—ten dollars have been spent to keep a lot of he-and-she-leeches in soft jobs to every nickel that was given to the presumed beneficiaries. The men and women who run it and gather the money in for it are honest enough and well meaning enough. The trouble is they are mere saps and they are in the hands of polite crooks.

"But every one is giving—DEAR," burbled the beggar over the telephone to my friend Mrs. Conger. "Every one—re-al-ly. I do not think you can afford to permit yourself to be left out."

Blackmail, that is. Just plain, unblushing, nasty blackmail. The trouble is that the statement was fairly true. Every one that Mrs. Conger knows is giving. A great fund will be piled up. The newspapers will print lists of the generous donors. A few hand-picked paupers will be patronized by some shoddy philanthropists——

And the knife-eyed crooks for whose benefit this charity is really being run will find themselves safe and warm for another year or two. Bah!

Mrs. C. M. Bacon reported good work along the lines laid down for the temperance and missions department, a representative to push the effort having been appointed for each church.

Mrs. Brandstater, head of the department of scientific temperance reported several fine programs given in the schools. Mrs. R. A. Ford, chairman of the narcotics department, also reported considerable work to combat the cigaret evil and the use of tobacco generally.

There was some discussion relative to the state convention which it is expected will be held in Glendale the last of May.

PRAYER SERVICE FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS

At the inter-denominational prayer service for foreign missions held at the First Methodist church Friday afternoon, a most interesting program was presented, twenty-five minutes being allotted to each denomination represented in the union.

The Methodist denomination was represented by Mrs. S. B. Warner, whose talk concerned the seven women's colleges in the orient, three in India, three in China and one in Japan, which are to be endowed by the combined contributions of the women's missionary societies and the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Foundation, which has promised one million dollars if the churches will raise two millions. Of the seven colleges, one in India and one in China are medical, and their aim is to train native women for work in those fields.

Mrs. Van Dyke spoke for the missionary work of the Congregational demonination and Mrs. E. E. Ford for the Baptists. Miss Adda G. Burch of the Central Avenue Methodist church was also a speaker. Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts, who represented the Glendale Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Floyd Mercer of the Central Christian church, contributed vocal solos.

Sunday morning at the First Methodist church the service will be in charge of the Women's Foreign Missionary society and Mrs. May Chisholm Brown of Corona, a returned missionary and brilliant orator, will be the speaker.

FIVE BIG ACTS AT GLENDALE THEATRE

There will be five big acts included on the new vaudeville bill that is scheduled to open at the Glendale theatre, today. Leslie and Martin present "Little Miss Melody," a charming musical turn that has been a big success everywhere. It is offered by two exceedingly clever artists and should be a big favorite. Ernest Rackett is billed as "Singing His Own Songs and Speaking His Own Ideas." The Belldays will contribute "The Lady of the Falls." This is a distinct novelty that has been a complete success. Happy Jack Boyce styles his offering "Singing and Talking Comedy." He has brand new material and knows how to put it across the footlights in the nmost effective fashion. Boyce is an artist in his line and never fails to impress his clever personality. The King Brothers are announced with a novelty dancing act that will please.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

INDIANANS VISIT CAPTAIN T. D. WATSON

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Springsteen of Indianapolis, Ind., were guests of their nephew, Captain Thomas D. Watson, motoring out from Los Angeles to see him, with their niece, Mrs. W. H. Seibert, who resides in that city, and with whom they are spending the winter.

Mr. Springsteen was for nine years postmaster of Indianapolis and has many business and social connections there. It is his first vacation in several years and his first sight of California. In spite of weather for which Southern Californians apologize, he says he is enjoying himself and has no complaints to make when he thinks of what he would have experienced at home.

OCCIDENTAL GLEE CLUB PROGRAM

In spite of the fact that about half its number weer unable to participate on account of influenza the 13 representatives of the Women's Glee club of Occidental college presented a very good program at the Glendale Methodist church Friday evening, and were rewarded with a good audience.

Their conductor, Frederick Evans, directed the performance, and Miss Ellen Godber acted as accompanist. The program included quartet numbers about college life by the "Tiger Four"; two readings by Miss Annie Wilson, a member of the club, and a variety of fine chorus numbers.

JOY SUPREME AT RAG DOLL DANCE

Joy reigned supreme at the second of the series of "rag doll" dances which was given last night in the new I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway. The first of this series of dances proved so very enjoyable that it immediately set the dancers on "edge" for the remainder of the series. Consequently the affair given last night was very well attended—the floor was comfortably filled and not one of those present was disappointed.

The music for the dancing was furnished by the "Gaiety Four," under whose auspices this series of dances is being given. Many complimentary expressions were heard as to the unusual quality of this music. The next one of these dances will be announced soon.

LA CRESCENTA TO GET NEW LIGHTS

LA CRESCENTA, March 4.—The regular meeting of the La Crescenta Improvement association was held at the school auditorium Thursday evening with President F. K. Czerniski in the chair. Many improvements were up for discussion. The most important was the new lighting district including the lower part of La Crescenta and Montrose. The blue prints of the district were approved by the association with the assuranec of the Edison company that they would begin work on the installation of lights at once. President Czerniski was instructed to appoint some one to canvas the district and take the census of the valley with a view to getting out a directory. The membership of the association is growing rapidly. H. N. Fowler of Chicago and La Crescenta was an interested member present at the meeting.

R. E. Steere returned from Youngstown, Ohio, last Wednesday, where he was called on account of the serious illness of his mother. He reports his mother much improved and very happy to get back to California.

John Gage of Pala, Calif., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Harriet Bastable of Los Angeles avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metz and Miss Lena Krug of Omaha, arrived last Tuesday and are occupying their home on Orchard avenue.

The La Crescenta Woman's club will hold their regular session at the school auditorium next Wednesday afternoon. After the program there will be a reception to Mrs. H. N. Fowler of Chicago and Miss Lena Krug of Omaha, both members of the club. Mrs. C. E. Culberson and Mrs. J. S. Conlin will be hostesses.

DAINTY CREATIONS FOR SPRING, ONE DESIGNED IN PARIS, THE OTHER HERE

The Once Over

KING BORIS AND HIS ELEPHANTS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

King Boris of Bulgaria is up against it.

He has got to get rid of his elephants!

They are very nice elephants. Little used, in point of fact, and practically as good as new.

One of the elephants has a few scratches across its right hip where the king struck matches, and there is possibility the baby elephant of the herd may have the print of a circle on its back where his excellency set a glass of wine in a moment of carelessness, but these little things happen around any house. As elephants go these lays, there are no better than these with which the king would part.

It seems the elephants belong to the royal menagerie established by former Emporer Ferdinand. In Ferdinand's time a king was a king. There was no such thing as skimping on one's elephants.

A king or an emperor had everything his heart desired, and Ferdinand's heart desired a whole menagerie.

Those were the days when European monarchs were on the outside of the cages where they could laugh at the animals. Now the situation is reversed—the animals laugh at the kings. And the fact that there are so few kings to laugh at is causing great unrest among the animals.

Kaiser Wilhelm had a menagerie. It included some laughing hyenas. Only recently did it dawn on him what they had been laughing at all these years.

King Boris found himself in the position of many other monarchs: totally unable to support a wife and eighteen elephants, not to mention twelve bisons, seven kangaroos, and It became a question of choosing between the wife and the menagerie.

The elephants presented the chief problem. They are gluttons for hay. And if Boris had any hay he would eat it himself.

So the other day he called the queen in and broke the news. "My dear," said the king, "we are in reduced circumstances. We must begin to give up luxuries and get down to plain living. I deem it in keeping with the spirit of thrift week that we make a great sacrifice and give up the non-essentials. I can think of nothing more non-essential than our elephants."

"Boris!" cried the queen, "is it as bad as that?"

"It is," replied the king, "either you agree to give up the elephants or you don't get that new hat. Choose!"

"So be it," cried the queen, wishing that old Ferdinand had stocked up the menagerie with Birds of Paradise and pheasants instead of elephants and bison in the first place.

You can't trim a hat with elephants.

Straightway Boris put in an advertisement throwing the elephants on the market. He will sell them singly or in case lots.

The keeper of the Cincinnati zoo has offered to buy the whole set if Boris will guarantee their safe shipment. At the present time that is the fly in the ointment. The king doesn't know just how to pack a load of elephants to guard against damage in transit.

Stevedores and freight handlers are so darn rough with packages these days!

Rough, Chapped Skin

Cause: Dust and wind. Can be avoided by keeping out of the dust and wind. If a girl must go where there is dust or wind she should walk down the street with her back to the wind.

Treatment: Massage the face with sandpaper until it (the sandpaper) bleeds; knead the face (you will need one as never before) between two pine planks for 15 minutes. By this time all traces of a rough, chapped skin will have been removed. Apply olive oil and set face in a cool, dry place until there is a call for it. There will be no call for it.

Shiny Skin

Cause: This condition is due to the fact the skin has a tendency to shine. It is often caused by the fact the wearer has been using furniture polish on the piano without removing the face during the operation. The vapor from drying fish will have the same effect.

Treatment: Try washing the face. If this fails, rub the face down with pumice stone; dust with powdered alum or rub face against a whitewashed wall; when face has attained the desired tone, varnish it for permanency.

Dull, Tired Skin

Cause: A dull, tired skin is usually due to the fact that the skin has become dull and tired.

Treatment: Remove the skin. If it is merely dull send it out with the kiddies to play in the park; if it is tired send it away to the country for a month's rest.

Blackheads

The only sure cure is to paint the face black. Otherwise soak the face in gin and remove blackheads with a corkscrew.

Double Chin

Cause: A struggle of the face to merge with the chest.

Treatment: You must first determine whether you wish the superfluous flesh pushed back into the face or back into the neck; this having been arrived at, spend ten hours a day in a Turkish bath, walking home through the chilly night with chin held high in air. This will remove your double chin and give you double pneumonia.

Wrinkles

Cause: Wrinkles are generally due to a contraction of the face which allows the skin to slip a few notches as in the word "accordion."

Treatment: The best preventative is to pin the skin in place with thumb-tacks. Once the skin has slipped, there is nothing to do but take your face to a taxidermist and have the slack taken up or stuffed.

GLENDALE MESA LOTS GOING FAST

The pre-opening sale of Glendale Mesa lots is now going on. The grandopening of the beautiful subdivision took place this morning, and although this sale is but a few hours old things are humming along in grand shape. There is a limited number of these lots to be offered to the public in this sale.

This tract is located one-half block from the car line in a very attractive section and each site affords an unsurpassed view of the wonderful Verdugo mountains as well as a wide panorama of the lower end of the vast San Fernando valley. The claim is made that of all the subdivisions placed on the market during the past few weeks this is located nearest to the center of the city, being only one mile from Broadway and Brand boulevard. Many of those who have already reserved building sites in this tract are local people, which fact speaks mighty well for the tract as a business proposition. Newcomers, also, are being attracted to this tract on account of its wonderful location, low prices and natural beauty.

The prices being charged for lots in this tract range from $500 to $750, and the lots are being sold on small payment down and easy payments on the balance. Ten per cent discount is being given for all cash and special inducements are offered to builders who buy three or more of these homesites.

LECTURER SAYS EVERYTHING IS RIGHT

Optimist as World Builder Is Subject of Discourse

"An optimist," said Rev. E. Morgan Isaac in his metaphysical lecture last Wednesday evening, "is a man who can see wonderful things in ordinary places, one whom nothing can discourage." His subject was "Optimism as a World Builder."

Using Demosthenes, Shakespeare and others as illustrations, he asserted "Real optimism has energy, purpose, determination and finally succeeds; nothing can stop it. Optimism is the creator of ideals, and ideals are the blue prints of the world. Optimism does not live in the past; there is no old age in this world, for time is; there is neither past nor future. People who live in yesterdays sigh for what they could do if they were young. Get up and do these things now!

"People never could succeed unless they had experienced failures. Experience is the best teacher. Gray hairs bring wisdom. Whatever you have lost, let it go cheerfully. You have yourself left and it is worth more to you than anything else. People lose much because they procrastinate.

"Optimism does not mourn over the passing of old beliefs; they rejoice in new and higher thoughts, building a more beautiful edifice on top of the old. Let us behold the ideal, as Jesus did, and in our effort to behold it, sin will cease. Optimism never sees darkness; it sees light; it does not see sin; it sees righteousness, for the optimist does his thinking right. Man is an unconquerable, eternal identity. All the terrible things in past history and the wars and famines of the present time are stepping stones to better things.

"Tradition ties people down with a weight around their necks. We are living in the light and are going to see a wonderful world as the result of right thinking. Mind is the dominant factor in the universe and psycho-analysis is curing more diseases than any physicians in the world."

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW THEATRE

Ground has been broken for the beautiful $50,000 theatre to be built by the H. E. Rommel Co. for the United Theaters company, at 105-109 South Central avenue, next the Edwards & Wildey block. The steam shovel operated by the contractors for the business block planned for W. J. MacDonald of Pasadena is scooping a big hole in the high ground on Colorado boulevard between Central and Castle avenues.

While the dramatic performance of the Eagle Rock Community Players on Tuesday evening, in the Central school auditorium, was not as largely attended as it would have been but for the prevalence of "flu," it was enjoyed as a thoroughly artistic entertainment by those who witnessed it, and the management feels that the effort was well worth while.

Much credit should be given Mrs. L. M. Maynard, the stage manager, for her arrangement of the scenes in the three one-act plays, especially in "The Beau of Bath," which was an exquisite eighteenth century picture. The lighting effects were expertly managed by Walter H. Dorrance, one of the school trustees, who is a skilled electrician.

The first play, "A Fond Delusion," was directed by Mrs. H. L. Terry; the second, "The Beau of Bath," by Mrs. Elgie Lowery Fischer of Pasadena, who is the newly engaged director for the remainder of the year; and the third, "Sham" by Mrs. R. L. Woodhouse, formerly president of the Detroit Community Players, now a resident of Eagle Rock.

PARENTS OF SON.

A son was born last Tuesday morning, in the Angelus hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Hamer of 234 North Kenilworth avenue, and has been named James Miner Hamer. Mother and child are doing well.

The two-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniels, of 125 North Castle avenue, which had a heart difficulty at birth, passed away a week ago. The funeral was Monday afternoon.

Eagle Rock Churches

"The New Birth and Attendant Phenomena" will be the subject of Rev. E. Morgan Isaac's sermon Sunday morning, in the Congregational church. Some of the questions he will take up are: What is the origin of the re-birth? Do all feel the need of re-birth? What are the phenomena that usually attend it? Is the church growing away from the re-birth idea? The evening lecture, at 7:30, will be on "The Low Cost of High Living," and will treat of life here and now, true values, controlling factors, etc. Men especially are invited to attend this meeting. The young people's meeting is at 6:30. Sunday school at 9:45.

Rev. James S. Speer, D. D., of San Francisco, will speak in the morning, at the Presbyterian church, choosing "The Ministry of Millions" for his topic. Rev. Speer and his family are well known to Eagle Rock, as they resided here before he was called north to serve as superintendent of the New Era movement on the Pacific coast. At 7:30, "The Life of Jesus of Nazareth, in Sermon, Story and Song," will be the subject of the pastor's discourse, on this evening including the birth, childhood, and early ministry of Jesus. Two following Sunday evevenings will be devoted to His later life and labors. There will be especially fine music, consisting of anthems and solos, at both services. The intermediate Christian Endeavor society will meet at 5:15 and the Senior society at 6:15. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

The sacrament of communion will be observed in the morning at the Methodist church and the pastor, Dr. John Hedley, will announce the pro-Easter program of the church. In the evening, at 7:30, he will discuss "Unconscious Weakness." Favorite old hymns and songs will be sung by the choir, with the congregation joining in the choruses. Under the leadership of L. E. P. T. A. ACTIVITIES IN EAGLE ROCK GROWING

New Associations to Be Formed in East and West Ends

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon, in the Central school auditorium.

Mrs. Walter Dorrance, the president, presided.

Continuing the movement to form a similar organization at the east end of Eagle Rock and another at the west end, meeting in their respective schoolhouses and forming a federation with the central body, Mrs. Jones reported that a meeting is called at the east end for next Wednesday, at 2:30, to organize for that neighborhood. Similar action is expected soon at the west end.

On motion of Mrs. F. H. Lerchen past president, seconded by Miss Baily, it was decided to give over to each of the supplementary organizations one night's performance of moving pictures, with all the profits to form the nucleus of a working fund for them.

The name of Peter H. Ducker was recommended as a candidate for school trustee at the election in the latter part of this month. The association indorsed and approved the idea of making Eagle Rock a dahlia city.

Under the direction of Miss Laura Mattingly, the school orchestra rendered two very enjoyable musical numbers, showing an excellent degree of proficiency.

The lecturer of the afternoon, Miss Marie C. Brehm of Long Beach, is a speaker of note, holding several high offices. She is vice president of the California Women's Legislative council, chairman of the legislation committee from California on the national committee on prohibition. First speaking of the motion picture business, she said it has marvelous possibilities, but has been so commercialized that it must be reformed from within or without. The news stands must also be watched, if the young are to be safeguarded.

Her subject was "Brains vs. Mothers." All the money in the world, she declared, will not compensate for spoiling the future men and women through moving pictures and reprehensible books. As illustrations of the value of brains, she spoke of the greatest ocean liner in the world as first having been a picture in a man's mind. Our government is the result of the thinking of men's brains; so are Rudyard Kipling's immortal poem "The Recessional," and Millais's great painting, "The Angelus." From $25 worth of pig iron an ordinary man produced $400 worth of pickaxes, another man made the same amount of iron yield $2000 in carpet tacks, and a man with university education got $25,000 from the $25 investment by making hair springs for watches. This, she said, was the work of brains unpoisoned by evil literature, strong drink, or nicotine.

"We are today facing problems such as no other age has faced," she continued. "We need the best kind of citizens, the best representatives in our legislatures and in every position of power or influence. Education along all lines is the best way we can spend our money—physical, intellectual, and spiritual culture. Womanhood all over the world today should bring great emphasis to bear on this larger culture. Unless the idea of three-story people is cultivated all over the world, we shall still have war despite the scrapping of ships and a ten-year vacation in building them."

WILL IMPROVE TRIANGLE GARAGE

G. H. McLean, formerly proprietor and owner of the Triangle garage, 1526 South San Fernando road, has again assumed the management of that garage and will add a large stock of automobile supplies and accessories and otherwise improve his place of business. This will be good news to those who knew Mr. Smith when he was formerly in charge and who will be glad to see him back again at his "old stand."

1922 MAXWELL IS MAKING BIG HIT

"The 1922 Maxwell is making just as big a hit with automobile buyers in the west as it did when displayed at the big auto shows in the eastern part of the country," said the manager of the Glendale Motor Car company, 246 South Brand boulevard, this morning. "Since taking over the agency for the Maxwell in Glendale, Eagle Rock and adjacent territory there has been a wonderful demand for this new model Maxwell, which is generally known to be a great improvement over the earlier cars put out by this concern. This new Maxwell is roomier, more attractive, and is standing up far better than any model ever put out by the Maxwell company. These are a few of the points that are causing this car to prove so popular.

"We are more than pleased at the way the people of Glendale are treating us, and we are endeavoring to reciprocate by giving the most efficient auto service in this city."

TEACHER RECOVERS

W. D. Root, teacher, was sufficiently recovered from "flu" to be able to return to his classes in Los Angeles on Wednesday, but he is far from being in his normal state of health. His wife, Mrs. Kara Root, is still confined to her bed and under the care of a trained nurse.

LOST HER PURSE

Mrs. C. G. Shiffer of the Circle Real Estate company, 120 North Brand, reports the loss of her pocketbook containing about $20 an automobile license and office cards, as well as her personal cards. The article was lost this morning between 809 East Elk avenue and 120 North Brand.

YOUNG MAN—HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!

This farm holds independence for you. This may be YOUR opportunity. Listen—40 acres of the finest soil within 3 miles of good town, a Santa Fe stop, in King county. All the water you can use FREE, this being secured from the people's ditch which taps the Kings river. On this place is a small house, large barn—in fact, everything ready to go to work. Owner is old and must quit. This is excellent alfalfa, grape, orchard land, and would make fine turkey or chicken ranch. Everything is ripe for a man to make real money.

The price on this ranch is $170 per acre, or $7,000 for the whole place. A payment as small as $500 down will be accepted, or owner could make use of a good automobile. Remember this farm is only 9 miles south of Hanford in one of the most fertile sections of San Jauquin valley. Let us tell you about this.

MUST KILL BUFFALOES.

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., March 4.—With the buffalo in the government park at Wainwright numbering more than 5,000 and with prospects of the herd, now the largest in the world, eventually outgrowing the 100,000 acre park, the Canadian government is seeking ways to commercialize the surplus animals. There is an excellent market for buffalo meat. All the buffalo the government cares to kill can be sold at fine prices in both Canada and the United States. Some of the surplus bulls, it is said, will be killed this winter for the market. Buffalo robes, the dominion park commission says, command a price of $100 apiece. Experiments have been made in tanning buffalo hides.

CHURCH WEDDING IS ELABORATE AFFAIR

Ewing-Thomas Ceremony Is Performed by Rev. Clyde M. Crist

One of the most elaborate church weddings that has ever taken place in the First Methodist church of Glendale was Wednesday evening of the present week, when Miss Margaret Evelyn Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey M. Thomas of Los Angeles, became the wife of John F. Ewing of South Pasadena.

The bride and her parents for years have been intimate friends of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Monroe Crist, and when this event loomed upon the horizon, arrangements were made for the young girl's wish that Mr. Crist officiate, be carried out. The marriage took place in the church that the many friends of bride and bridegroom might have opportunity to witness it.

Garbed in a wedding gown of white satin with wedding veil and bouquet of bride's roses and maidenhair fern, the beautiful bride was a picture not soon to be forgotten. In attendance as maid of honor, was her cousin, Miss Evelyn Turner, and preceding her as flower girl was another cousin, a dainty slip of a three-year-old in pink, little Dorothy Johnson of Bakersfield, Calif. Of the two matrons of honor, one was a cousin—Mrs. Russell Hadley of Los Angeles, the other a close friend—Mrs. Kenneth Stevenson, also of Los Angeles. These attendants were in rose colored gowns to harmonize with the color scheme of gold, rose and green which dominated the function.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Charles Ewing, the ushers being R. Kenneth Crist and Christian Mennig, the last named an old-time school chum of the man of the hour.

The double ring ceremony was used and Mr. Thomas gave his daughter in marriage.

Never had the church been more beautifully decorated than on this occasion. The choir loft had been converted into a palm grove and the platform into a veritable garden, of spring flowers backed by great pots of acacia bloom and with potted palms at either end of the altar, the scene illuminated by the soft glow of floor lamps shadowed by rose colored shades.

Throughout the church the electric light bulbs had been sheathed in rose tinted paper and were dimmed to a rosy twilight radiance until the bridal party appeared when the full blaze of light was turned on.

Presiding at the organ was Mrs. Harriet Randall, who softly played "The Rosary" and then the accompaniment for two solo numbers, "I Love You Truly" and "Because" sung by Miss Dorothy Van Arnum, of Los Angeles, a friend of the bride, before the arrival of the bridal group called for the wedding march triumphantly interpreted by Mrs. Randall.

Following the ceremony the wedding party retired to the ladies' parlor of the church where a reception was held and refreshments were served. The central feature of these was an immense bride's cake very beautiful in its floral frosting and garniture, the first piece of which was cut by the bride. She then handed the knife to her grandmother, Mrs.

The Eagle Rock committee in sided over the table centered by the cake.

The other wedding cake had previously been cut and packed into individual boxes, one for each guest. Over the table on which these boxes were placed Mrs. Hanson of Los Angeles, an aunt of the bride, presided.

Two other aunts, Mrs. John Turner of Los Angeles and Mrs. Sozey of Riverside, dispensed delicious fruit punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing left the same evening on a brief honeymoon trip and on their return will occupy a cottage in Pasadena Glen until they decide definitely where they want to make their home. They have been looking in Glendale and may come here.

Mr. Ewing is an architect and is at present in the employ of the Union Oil company. His bride is a graduate of the state normal school. Both have a large circle of friends and relatives and have been the recipients of a wonderful array of beautiful wedding gifts.

THE LIFE AND THE SONG

Need is forever and life's not for long,
The day goes to dusk, by the thick shadow hid,
It isn't the singer that counts, it's the song,
And it isn't the man but the thing that he did.

The thinker will pass, like the flicker and gleam
Of the spark in the fire, and so little we heed.
It isn't the dreamer that counts, it's the dream
It isn't the doer that lives, it's the deed.

The soldier will fall and his fighting be done,
His gift to the world all that life had to give
But the soldier must fall that the battle be won.
And the battle be won that new soldiers may live.

It isn't the teacher or martyr or sage
Who lived or who died, and whose life is forgot,
It's the undying thing that he wrote on the page
Of the book or of life and the truth that he taught.

It isn't the I and it isn't the You,
It's the gift that we give and the word that we say;
It's the song that we sing and the deed that we do,
And the thing that is left that is more than the clay.

Yes, Need is forever and Time's always young,
It is we who grow old, and the day of us flies,
And the singer has gone but the song's on the tongue
Of the years that come after, nor grows old nor dies!

ZANN'S BROADWAY MARKET IS NEWEST

Zann's Broadway Market, 220 East Broadway, is one of the latest additions to the business life of Glendale. The proprietors of this establishment, Paul and Ethel Zann, came to Glendale from Des Moines, Iowa, where they conducted a similar business fro several years. For the past three years these newcomers to Glendale spent parts of the winters in Long Beach. During those visits they motored all over Southern California, their idea being to find a place where they would like to settle down permanently. After these weeks and months of searching for such a place they happened to visit Glendale. Immediately they were favorably struck with this city and it did not take them long to decide on Glendale as the location for "that future home."

In this new establishment everything is carried in the way of the finest and the freshest meats, groceries, vegetables, fruits, etc. In fact, everything that is needed for the table may be found at this store.

The proprietors of Zann's Broadway Market have come to Glendale to stay, and already they are enthusiastic boosters for this city.

SEVENTH UNIT OF FAIRVIEW NEAR SOLD OUT

Tract of Desirable Homesites Being Rapidly Disposed of

The seventh unit of the Fairview tract is almost sold out. It has been but a week or so since the seventh unit of this remarkable tract was placed on the market, and from the opening day of the sale these very desirable homesites have been going like "hot cakes," as they say.

There are a number of features that enter into the unusual values that are being offered in this tract. In the first place the tract is located right in the heart of the rapidly growing northwest, where so many hundreds of building sites have been disposed of to local and visiting investors during the past few weeks.

Another point is that it is surrounded by tracts in which the lots are selling for much higher prices than are being asked in Fairview.

Then, again, this tract is very desirable on account of the scenery. From it may be obtained a wonderful view of the beautiful Verdugo mountains, as well as an unsurpassed panorama of the vast San Fernando valley. The drainage of this tract is excellent—there are no gulleys of waste land—the land gradually rises from one end of the tract to the other. This tract is in the midst of the "great outdoors"—out where the children can grow and grow in the sunniest sunshine and the freshest fresh air of this most wonderful of valleys.

Since the first unit of Fairview was placed on the market this tract has proven unusually attractive to prospective home owners. This is evidenced by the fact that already more than 400 lots have been sold in this tract. No subdivision ever opened in this valley has known such a wonderful sale. The lots in this new tract have been priced at from $480 to $855, and these may be purchased at $25 and $50 down and $10 and $15 per month. These are very close to acreage prices for residence lots.

Hamlin & Hepburn, 203 West Broadway, who are putting Fairview on the map, say that to reach the tract by auto the motorist should take the following route: Drive out West Broadway and San Fernando road to Vine avenue, then one block up to tract office at Vine avenue and Fourth street. Autos will leave 203 West Broadway at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

OLDEST AND BEST OF GAS RANGES

"The Reliable gas range is one of the oldest gas ranges on the market," said Mr. Neale of the Neale & Gregg Hardware company, agents for this range in Glendale, this morning. "During the past few months and years quite a number of other ranges have made their appearance but none of them have taken the place of the 'Old Reliable.' Since this range came into existence improvements to it have been made from time to time, so that now it contains features that are far ahead of anything else on the market. It has every good feature embodied in all the other ranges, along with a number of additional features."

The Reliable range is guaranteed for life. A few of the claims made for this range are as follows:

Most sanitarily constructed, made of angle iron, rustless oven linings, perfect cooking top, can be furnished with or without the Lorain heat regulator.

This company claims it can show the prospective buyer Reliable ranges that have been in continuous use for the past twenty years, which is "some" recommendation.

GIRLS' LEAGUE IN OPENING MEETING

The first meeting of the Girls' League since the new term opened was held Friday morning at the high school, and was one of the best meetings the organization has ever held.

The new president, Miss Virginia Huntley, was introduced by the retiring president, Doris Packer, and she in turn introduced the other officers—Mildred Stanford, vice president; Helen Sherwood, secretary, and Bettie Fell, treasurer.

Besides being an introduction of the new officers it was a program of welcome to the new girls and included readings by Doris Packer, songs by Dorothy Peart, cornet solos by Elden Benge.

Plans are being made for interesting league events in the near future.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Adv.
